1 Is "BNPL" well understood by the target audience? BNPL would belong to the controlled vocabulary.

2 Just a note that "All asset classes" works differently from the individual classes. (And maybe it should be distinguished differently?) "Asset class" would belong to the controlled vocabulary.

3 Are we using "and" or "&"?

4 This looks like it functions more like a product page, and doesn't appear to belong under "Developers". (It might go better where Self-Service Portfolio Migration is.)

5 I believe system status is not just of concern to developers, and doesn't belong under "Developers." Also, this opens a new tab, which is different behavior from the rest of the navigation menu items.
